

Christ our Joy

Philippians 3:1-4:1

Finally, Rejoice in the Lord

Dogs, evildoers, mutilators of the flesh!?

We are the circumcision

Righteousness in Christ alone

Sharing in his sufferings

I press on to make it my own because Christ Jesus has made me his own

Paul's goal: Christ and his upward call

Paul calls the church to imitate him as a leader and a brother

What does this mean for us?

Christ alone, our Joy

Christ alone, our Righteousness

Christ alone, our Goal

The background image is a landscape of rolling mountains. The mountains in the foreground are dark and silhouetted, while the ones in the distance are shrouded in a thick mist or fog, creating a sense of depth and tranquility. The sky is filled with soft, horizontal clouds, and the overall color palette is dominated by cool blues, greys, and muted oranges from the low sun. The text 'Christ our joy' is centered in the middle of the image, written in a clean, white, sans-serif font. The word 'Christ' is in all caps, while 'our joy' is in title case.
